“Faith was the best ministering angel. She was an inspiration to me. She could hardly get up our steps but every Sunday she would stop by and give us a bulletin or something from the R.S. She even called on the day she got out of the hospital to check on us. We will miss her so much.

“I've always said that customers are more than just a number. They are people with stories to tell. Faith was one of my favorite customers who became my sweet friend. She would come see me at least once a week and as I would help her she would share sweet stories about her life and her family. Her family meant the world to her. But so did God. Faith and I would also talk a lot about God and how important it was to know God. Several times we would pray together at my desk. I always looked forward to seeing Faith. Her sweet smile and laugh but most of all hearing her say I love you and giving me a hug. She was so special. My prayers go out to her family.
