

James Scott Hilke

January 25, 1956 - April 30, 2024

James Scott Hilke of Corning, CA passed away in Corning, CA on Monday, April 30, 2024

Tribute Wall

BM

“ I just learned of Scott's passing. I hadn't heard from him for awhile and feared the worst. Scott was one of very few people I honestly enjoyed to be around. He was genuine. We would travel for days in the Northwest and never came up short on conversation. The band he was in, his family, his El Camino, golfing, his home building , and later, the Paradise Fire. And sometimes it was even work related. Which he was the master at. Always had the best interests of the customer. I always looked forward to Scott's visits. I am so sorry that his friend's and family no longer have him on this earth. I pray that we all be together again. I miss Scott.

Bruce Maytum

Bruce Maytum - December 06, 2024 at 01:21 PM

GH

“ Scott was a great mentor to me when we started working together about 2-1/2 years ago. Scott was always willing to lend a hand to explain complex High Temperature / High Pressure Valve solutions to my customers in the Power Generation Industry and any other of my valued customers . Scott is a Legend in the Industrial Valve business and his name will live on for years to come . I always enjoyed when we traveled together and he would tell me stories about past people he worked with and the crazy things that happened over the years . I was sad when Scott retired about a year ago but we kept in close contact until a few weeks ago when god called him home . I will miss our long conversations about the current political climate .

My heart goes out to the entire Hilke family and I am sure you all know how much he loved his family !! Scott was very proud of all of you and your accomplishments .

Glenn Heglund - Conval

Glenn Heglund - May 16, 2024 at 09:29 PM